

PRESIDENT IS STRONGER.

His Improvement Steady and Rapid.

Out of Danger Unless Complications Arise.

Slight Inflammation Results From Removal of Piece of Coat.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—Physicians are now united in the belief that the President is out of danger. They say that he could be moved to Washington with safety, but that no risks will be taken.

Beef broth has been fed him and the nourishment has done him good. A slight irritation, resulting from the fact that a part of the President's coat entered the wound at the time he was shot, necessitated the opening of one of the exterior wounds and redressing. The incident is unimportant. The President is getting stronger; his pulse, temperature and respiration are satisfactory.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—At 10:20 a. m., Dr. McBurney said: "The wound in the President's stomach has healed, as is proven by the fact that the stomach has resumed its functions. The President could be moved to Washington tonight without great danger, but he must not return there before Oct. 15."

DAY OF JUBILEE SEPT 21

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—Director General Buchanan of the Pan-American exposition has recommended that Sept. 21 be named as a day of special thanksgiving and national jubilee over the escape of President McKinley from death. Provisional arrangements are now being made for the day.

The Stadium and Temple of Music will be the centers for the jubilee crowd. School children will assemble in the Stadium where a program will be rendered, and a chorus from all the churches will sing in the Temple of music. A pageant will be another feature and there will be a display of fireworks in the evening.

COULD EXPECT NO MORE.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—At 2:20 p. m.—Mr. Milburn left his house smoking a cigar and smiling pleasantly. He approached a group of reporters and in response to inquiries regarding the President, said he was resting very comfortably and doing as well as was expected. "There are no new developments in the case," he said.

An Earlier Attempt-- Woman Says Czolgosz Made It.

Norwalk, O., Sept. 11.—Mrs. A. A. Manahan, of this city who has just returned from Buffalo told a sensational story Tuesday in connection with Czolgosz, the president's assailant. She says she saw the fellow Thursday in the crowd which was being addressed by the president, standing within a few feet of him. He and a confederate, a tall thin fellow, who had, she thinks, a scar on his face, were pressing their way through the crowd trying to get at the president. Czolgosz had a white cloth around his hand, and she remarked to her husband that she didn't believe his hand was hurt as he handled it in a careless manner.

She also said to Mr. Manahan: "Let's get away from these two men, I believe they are pickpockets." She saw them a second time in the crowd and didn't like their actions. She says she is quite positive she could identify the second man if she could see him. She heard one of them say: "This is too much for us. We can't get near him from here." The incident made a great impression on her mind.

AT BUFFALO.

Emma Goldman Will be Tried There.

Efforts to Have Her Brought East at Once.

Buffalo, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—Steps will be immediately taken to have Emma Goldman brought to this city from Chicago. An erroneous impression prevailed that an indictment against the woman would be necessary before she could be brought here but the laws of New York state provide that she can be brought here immediately. Although the grand jury is scheduled to meet at 10 o'clock this morning it is not believed that its deliberations will have anything to do with the anarchistic problem.

OPERATION.

Small One Performed on President.

Irritation of Tissue Caused by Piece of Coat Removed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—Although a second minor operation was performed on President McKinley last night, there seems to be no reason for apprehension as to his condition this morning. A portion of the exterior wound was opened on account of a slight irritation and an antiseptic dressing applied. The general condition of the President has improved through the day and the surgeons say the incident cannot give rise to other complications.

The surgeons arrived at the Milburn house about 9:30 o'clock last night and it was not until two hours later that they emerged. When the 10:30 official bulletin was made public about midnight much of the anxiety was relieved by its reassuring tone and the statement that for the first time the President had been able to take nourishment through his mouth.

The consultation was attended by all six doctors and during the operation Secretary of War Root, Adm. McKim, Secretary Cortelyou, John G. Milburn and Harry Hamlin were in the house.

The time actually employed in the operation was short, the delay having been caused by an error in the purchase of bandage material which had to be ordered from down town. A messenger was hurriedly dispatched for proper material and the operation was completed.

The physicians say that the irritation was undoubtedly caused by a fragment of the President's coat which was carried beneath the skin by the bullet last Friday. The cloth was removed at the time and caused a slight irritation of the tissues, the evidence of which the doctors say did not appear until last night.

The general condition of the President continues to improve and the physicians have decided to give him nourishment in the form of pure beef juice every hour.

Hackensack, N. J., Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—A number of Paterson anarchists, engaged in a riot here this morning. The majority of them are Italians and they wanted one of their countrymen engaged as foreman in place of a German who now occupies that position in a mill here. When the police arrived on the scene they found they were utterly powerless to control the mob. One officer was severely beaten and the clothing of a number of girl workers, who got mixed up in the fight was partially torn from their backs. The mill is now closed and the leaders of the rioters threaten to shoot any person who attempts to go to work there. The police are preparing for further trouble.

WOMAN

Anarchist Was Arraigned.

Protests Her Innocence Vigorously.

Will Not Go to Buffalo Without Fight.

Miss Goldman Demands an Immediate Trial.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—Emma Goldman and Charles G. Norris, in whose house she was arrested, were arraigned this morning to answer to the charge of conspiracy to assassinate the President. Miss Goldman announced that she was ready for trial, but the City Prosecutor asked for a continuance to Sept. 19, when other anarchists will be tried.

Miss Goldman insisted upon an immediate trial, but desired first to have a consultation with the attorneys who are expected to handle her cases. As neither was in the court room, a postponement was taken until they appear. Miss Goldman was then taken back to the woman's prison.

Miss Goldman, before her arraignment, was just as vehement in her protestations of innocence she was when first arrested.

She declared that if the Buffalo authorities wanted her they would have to apply for extradition papers.

Miss Goldman passed a restless night. She paced the floor for several hours and complained of having a headache.

Miss Goldman awoke several times during her short sleep which ended at 4 o'clock, when she arose and asked for copies of all the morning newspapers.

These were given her and she read all of them with great avidity. The accounts of her arrest and the interviews were criticised with her customary vigor. The pictures of her, she said, made her look like an ex-convict. At 7 o'clock she was taken to the station assembly room and provided with the breakfast of coffee and black bread.

GLORY.

Waved Over Veterans' Parade at Cleveland.

40,000 Men In Line and All Enthusiastic.

Cleveland, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—The Grand Army paraded this morning 40,000 strong. It was the biggest parade of old comrades in a decade. The procession was reviewed by distinguished soldiers and civilians high in the councils of the nation.

Today was the big day of the encampment, though all the other days have been big ones as compared with like days at other encampments.

The Spanish-American war veterans of the city are acting as guides at the various depots and are taking the old soldiers to the various places where they are being entertained. The big parade of this morning is said by those who saw it to have been the biggest march of veterans seen at an encampment in many years.

The selection of the commander of the G. A. R. is the topic that now takes the time and the attention of the veterans. The faction who were for Gen. Sickles are much disappointed because his strength has been reduced and his strength has been partly thrown to Thomas J. Stewart, Pennsylvania's candidate for the place. There have been many meetings of the different organizations of the veterans during the last few days.

Cleveland stores were closed during the parade and the city declared a holiday. It is estimated that there were nearly 400,000 people on the streets of the city today. The capacity of the city for the entertainment of visitors has been taxed to the utmost.

Cleveland, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—The G. A. R. encampment is enlivened by the presence of two oldest war veterans. They are John H. Reed, aged 103, of Decatur, Ind., and Dennis Mukin, from the Dayton Soldiers' Home, 102 years old. Reed is in excellent health, but Mukin is feeble. Both were in the parade in carriages.

rock will bend a new mainsail today and take a spin this afternoon.

London, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—General Kitchener reports a decisive victory for the British under General Methuen in the Great Maries Valley. The despatch follows: Methuen engaged Van Londer and De la Roy in Great Maries Valley on September 6 and 8, driving them from a strong position. CZOLGOSZ'S BROTHER BELIEVED INNOCENT.

Questioned Closely Tuesday by Barborton Police.

Barborton, Sept. 11.—"Mike Zolden," who is the brother of Leon Czolgosz, and who is employed in Barborton at the plant of the Diamond Match Co., was closeted with Marshal Ferguson, Tuesday and was questioned to see if he had any acquaintance with the events surrounding the attempt on the life of President McKinley.

The result of the questions has greatly influenced the officers in the young man's favor and it is the belief in Barborton that he has had no connection with any plot of anarchists and that he is a different sort of man than his brother.

He has been a resident of the village of Barborton for about six months and was employed at the factory of the Columbia Chemical Co., for about four months.

While he has not been at the Diamond Match factory for a long time he has made friends and was not regarded as anything but a very ordinary sort of a young man. The name "Zolden" was given because he says that English speaking people have difficulty in pronouncing his name correctly. Young Czolgosz has been boarding with a Polish family named Zulowski since he has been in Barborton.

In the course of the examination Tuesday Czolgosz said that he was not in sympathy with the act of his brother and that if Leon shot the President he should be hanged for the crime. Czolgosz is younger than was at first reported and is not much over 20. He has light hair and his general appearance resembles that of his brother, whom he says he has not seen for more than six months.

"Leon is quick tempered and quarrelsome," he said, "and would as soon pick a quarrel with my father as any one else."

The Barborton Czolgosz says that he believes in the Bible and that he hopes the President will get well. He declares that he never attended any meetings of anarchists, but that he attended some socialistic meetings years ago. He believes neither in anarchy or socialism.

It was reported in Barborton that this Czolgosz had made threats different times, but an investigation of the matter developed that the report was false.

"Zolden" was not arrested and it is not likely that he will be, as he has proven to the satisfaction of the Barborton Police that he knows nothing of the events surrounding the assassination.

Removed His Spleen-- Rare Operation Successful.

New York, Sept. 11.—(Spl.)—The spleen was removed from Michael Vitale, six years old, at Harlem hospital yesterday afternoon. This is one of the rarest of surgical operations and there are only three other cases known where the operation was successful.

ly performed. The Vitale boy was knocked down by a wagon yesterday. At the hospital it was discovered that the spleen had been torn from its connections with the other viscera. The doctors cut it out and sewed up the wound. The little one is doing well, and is expected to recover.
